SPORTSMAN'S PARK, Aug. 30.—
Flint Rhyme, the strong-armed right-hander from Carolina, went to the pitching slab this afternoon
for the Cardinals to face the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates in the first of a scheduled double-header.
Ray Kremer, also a right-hander,
and a hero of the 1925 world series, in which the Pittsburgh team
won its world title, was Manager
Bill McKechie's selection for mound duty.
The Cardinals took the field
spurred on by the knowledge that the double-header offered them a chance to pass the Pirates and to go into the lead in the tight National League pennant race.
A double victory would put St.
Louis in front. If Chicago were to defeat the Cincinnati Reds again,
a double victory for St. Louis and a Cincinnati victory would leave
the two teams tied for first place,
with the Pirates dropping to third position.
Shortly before game time the sky
became overcast, reminding
the players and the spectators of yesterday's gathering, when thousands of persons were soaked to the skin
while the two teams battled ten innings to a 2-2 tie, making it necessary to schedule today's double-header and one tomorrow
with a single game Wednesday to set in the five games in three days.
There were thousands of empty
seats today, the extreme sections of the grandstand being unoccupied
with many empty seats in the bleachers and a few in the pavilion.
The usual Monday ladies' day had been suspended by the management in expectation of a huge crowd.
However, this was the first game
started and it was expected that there would be 30,000 in the stands
by the time the second game got underway.
It is difficult to estimate the attendance when the crowd is scattered as it was this afternoon and guesses at the size of the crowd varied from 18,000 to 25,000, when the first game started.
Four umpires again were on duty, with Rigler behind the plate, Quigley at first, Reardon at second
and McCormick at third.

THOUSANDS SEE VALENTINO'S BODY BORNE TO CHURCH

MASS CELEBRATED
AT ST. MALACHY'S

Pola Negri, One Ex-Wife
and Representative of Another, and Mary Pick-
ford Among Mourners.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Broadway today paid farewell tribute to Rudolph Valentino. The street was lined with many thousands as the funeral cortege moved from the undertaking rooms at Broadway and Sixty-sixth street to St. Malachy's Roman Catholic Church, on West Forty-ninth street.
The police bomb squad and 263
patrolmen, including a mounted squad, guarded the route and stood outside the undertaker's and the church.
Pola Negri, Polish actress, who says that she was engaged to marry Valentino, and Jean Acker,
the actor's first wife, followed the body into the church. Miss Negri, dressed in severe mourning and sobbing loudly, was immediately
behind the silver-bronze casket.
Behind her came Miss Acker and in the rear were representatives of Miss Winifred Hudnut, his second wife, and Mary Pickford.
Casket Decked With Flowers.
As the casket, decked with flowers from the automobile load that followed the procession, was carried out the casket was followed by eight pallbearers, a solemn hush
fell upon the audience.
The prelude of the processional
"Miserere" came from the pipe organ. Those in the church stood with bowed heads.
The Rev. Father Leonard, officiating at the mass, marched slowly
forward, surrounded by his assistants and altar boys, lace covering their black surplices. The voices of an unseen sextet rose from the apse as Father Leonard sprinkled
the casket with holy water.
A nurse and doctor, in white smocks and aprons, stood by the entrance as Miss Negri and the group of seven women, dressed in black, entered the church.
The sobbing of Miss Negri could be heard above the sextet.
The body was borne to the central altar, above which a fresco of the Nativity appeared. The coffin was placed on the altar steps and
the solemn high requiem mass was begun.
Onofri Sings "Ave Maria."
The Gounod offertory, "Ave
Maria," was sung softly by Dimitri
Onofri, tenor of the San Carlos Opera Co., and Massenet's postcomponment "Elegy" was sung by Guido Ciccolini, with cello obliga-
to.
Father Leonard then blessed the casket and the recessional "Tribulation" by Schwellers, was sung by the sextet.
Father Ciccolini, a boyhood
chum of Valentino in Italy, then said his farewell to the actor.
Chopin's "Marche Funebre" was played as the casket was carried from the church to be held at the undertaker's awaiting the funeral vestibled with the German steamer Graine in the Moskowi
canal, near here, last night.
Most of the victims were Russians.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—In the face of co-operative efforts to re-

accidents, 88 more persons were killed and 408 more were injured in the first five months of 1926
than in the corresponding period
last year. The number of accidents increased by 307.
Interstate Commerce Commission figures announced today
showed 2262 grade crossing accidents in the five months, as against 1895. The number killed was 859,
as against 771, and the injured
2666 as against 2198.
There was a decrease in casualties from railroad accidents of all kinds, 2537 having been killed as against 2559, while 51,707 were injured as compared with 53,867.

CAMPAIGN BEGINS TO PUT BUREAUS UNDER PRESIDENT

Assumption Is Bills Will Be

to Destroy Independence of Commissions.

CONGRESSMAN WOOD
CHAMPIONS PLAN

In Magazine Article He Says Boards Are Responsible to No One and Reports Are Ignored.

By CHARLES MICHELSON.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-
Dispatch and New York World.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Preliminary maneuvering has begun
for the extension of the President's authority to bring the Shipping Board, the Tariff Commission, the Interstate Commerce Commission
and the Federal Trade Commission
definitely within his control.
Chairman Wood of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee is publishing in the Nation's Business Magazine an article on the necessity of placing all independent Government bureaus under the control of the different members of the Cabinet, "who will be held responsible for their action."
Word of the imminence of Wood's contribution was circulated
by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.
Recent Conference With Coolidge.
The circumstance that Wood recently visited the President, and the President's well-known interest in the matter, suggests that the campaign for the subordination of the independent boards is being carried out according to program. Actually the President has gained control of these boards, but the process has been unpleasant and any time an administration commissioner cares to revolt he might under all that has been accomplished.
The Tariff Commission was altered by the President from a commission to a board, and a condition that allowed it to recommend a decrease in the sugar tariff by tempting Commissioner Culberson of the board with a diplomatic appointment. The substitution of more perfectly subordinated commissioners was not accomplished, however, without some scandal and the revelation that commissioners were expected to file blank resignations with the President when named.
The President managed finally
to get a sort of men he wanted
on the Shipping Board, as well as to have a working majority of the Interstate Commerce Commission
and the Federal Trade Board.
All these commissions were created as independent bodies with non-partisan membership, not accused of partisanship, and not accused of administration domination.
Wood does not go into this phase
in arguing for incorporation of the boards in various Government departments.
"Responsible to No One."
"These independent bureaus," he says, "are responsible to no one on earth. They were created by laws of Congress which provided no definite system of control. Some of them were instructed to report to the President and some of them were instructed to report to Congress. Some report and some do not—just as they see fit. Furthermore, the President and Congress
pay no attention to these reports
when they are received, and, of course, they are pretty near worthless."
He cited the growth of the packing-house inspection unit it costs
over $300,000 a year, though it was stated when the meat inspection
bill was offered that it would add nothing to the cost of the Government. As the meat inspection is under the Secretary of Agriculture,
it hardly bears out Wood's thesis.
He blames the bogging down of the Harding administration for the failure of the departments on Government employees, but interest in that scheme evaporated after the disclosure of one piece of interdepartmental shuffling—the transfer of the navy oil reserves to the Department of the Interior.
It is assumed the administration will have introduced legislation to get rid of the independent bureaus
early in the short session of Congress, which begins in December.
The prospects of success are not bright. If the matter is not disposed of in the coming session, it will have no chance at all for the next Congress, with its greater proportion of Democrats and progressives, will add to rather than diminish the number of boards independent of the executive.

HINDU MYSTIC SCORNS MONEY AND NOTORIETY

Krishnamurti Presides Over
Section of Theosophical
Congress in Chicago.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Jiddu
Krishnamurti, the young Brahmin,
heralded by theosophists as the modern messenger of divinity on earth has declined "hundreds of offers for public appearances in America" he said today.
Speaking of one offer involving a considerable sum of money the young protégé of Mrs. Annie Besant, head of the Theosophical Society, said: "I don't want it. I can't happiness. Money doesn't mean anything. Notoriety is not satisfaction. I wouldn't like them.
They just seem worthless."
Krishnamurti today presided at a meeting of the Order of the Star of the East, which he heads. He addressed the members of the annual convention of the Theo-sophists.
Several preliminary meetings
were held yesterday, including the laying of the cornerstone of a $250,000 national headquarters
building at Wheaton, Ill. a service of the Liberal Catholic Church presided over by Mrs. Besant and a closed meeting of the Theosophical Society at which Krishnamurti
spoke briefly.
Krishnamurti took no part in the Wheaton ceremonies, but watched
from an automobile while Mrs.
Besant laid the cornerstone. On the way out the car, caught in the jam of Sunday traffic, narrowly escaped a serious smashup. The occupants of the machine were shaken up but were uninjured.
Addressing a closed meeting of the Esoteric Society, Krishnamurti addressed the value of beauty, pleaded for world brotherhood and predicted that both beauty and peace
would hasten the coming of Christ.
"The life of the theosophist," he said, "is not a life of negation and depression. It is rather a life of joyful fullness. No one can imagine the excitement, the ecstasy, to be found when the unrealities are put off. You think jazz, sports and the like exciting. I assure you they are not when you know excitement of the right kind. In the higher worlds which open before the seeking are joys and pleasures so far exceeding mundane joys and pleasures that there are no words to describe them."

"CARMEN" PRINCIPALS FOREGO $10,000 PAY

Singers to Accept Only Expenses to Save Enterprise
From Deficit.

To avoid a threatened deficit of $10,000 in the Golderman grand opera enterprise, the principals in the "Carmen" production yesterday
announced to Guy Golderman, director, that they would accept only their expenses, but no salaries, for the six performances, the last of which was given last night until stopped by rain.
As the salaries would have come
to about $10,000, the singers' action means that the St. Louis Grand Opera Association, in which Golder-man is the chief figure, probably will be able to balance its books,
and to plan for another venture in grand opera on the Forest Park
stage.
If any deficit should remain, a committee of backers of the Golder-
man enterprise will meet it, according to an announcement today.
The action of the singers was taken because of their personal regard for Golderman. They all are booked, under direction with which he is in association, to appear in various cities during the coming operatic season.
Golderman said he was unwilling to accept the offer when it was first made by the singers, but agreed after a talk with them. He said the rain, which prevented an opening performance Monday night, and which kept down last night's attendance, was the chief cause of the failure to meet the expenses of the production. The total expense of production, including all overhead, was about $30,000, he said.
The rain stopped last night's performance in the third act, about 10
o'clock, the audience having sat
through a brief drizzle an hour
earlier.
Golderman announced today that the Grand Opera Association would be incorporated and would bring at least four operatic attractions to
St. Louis in the coming winter.
These will be the Manhattan Opera company, which will feature
Tamaki Miura, Japanese soprano,
In Franchette's "Naniwa San"; the San Carlo company, in a week of repertoire; the Chappin opera company, headed by the Russian basso, and three performances of the Mordkin ballet.

By the Associated Press.
DOVER, England, Aug. 30.—Otto Vierkoeten of Germany today
swam the English Channel.
He landed at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon at Langdon Sluice, half way between Dover and St. Margaret's Bay, from Cape Gris Nez,
France, where he entered the water at 1:35 a. m.
The elapsed time of the swim,
was 12 hours, 40 minutes, or nearly two hours better than the record
of 14 hours 31 minutes established by Miss Gertrude Ederle on Aug. 6.
Vierkoeten's landing was witnessed by only a few soldiers, who ran down from the Langdon battery, above the beach. The soldiers carried the swimmer to his small boat, which conveyed him to the accompanying tug.

German the Eleventh Person to Swim Channel.
Vierkoeten is the eleventh person to swim the channel, and the first man to perform the feat this year. Gertrude Ederle and Mrs.
Clemington Corson, both of New York, are the only others who have made the crossing thus far this season.
Up to this year the record channel crossing had stood at 16 hours 23 minutes. This record was made in August, 1922, by Sebastian Tiraboschi, Italo-Argentine swimmer.
Miss Ederle, the first woman to conquer the famous waterway, set
a sensational mark with her 14 hours 31 minutes. Mrs. Corson last Saturday also beat Tiraboschi's record, but fell short of Miss Ederle's time. Mrs. Corson crossed in 15 hours 28 minutes.
Vierkoeten, who has won championships in Germany, failed in an attempt to cross the channel last week. He was in the water 10 hours, and was taken out when his legs lost its way in a heavy fog not far from the Goodwin Sands, off
the English coast.

Mrs. Corson Hopes to Get Money
for Use of Her Name.

lishing Co., New York World

DOVER, England, Aug. 30.—
Mrs. Clemington Corson, who swam across the English Channel, Saturday, said today that she was a professional swimmer and frankly hoped to obtain pay for the use of her name on articles of merchandise. She also hopes to get employment as a result of her triumph
that will enable her to educate the children.

Mrs. Corson, unable to reach the coast above Dover, where Miss Ederle landed, was swept past the entrance to the harbor by Saturday
and carried down the channel by an adverse tide, but she was able to reach shore after a desperate struggle. It took her an hour and a quarter to cover three-quarters of a mile, landing at Shapkears Cliff, below Dover.

Paying tribute to her courage,
experts here say that the tide must have changed more slowly than usual and that the full force of the down-channel sweep held off,
or no human being could have done what she did. Some of the old hands who were on the convoying launch admit that they thought all was lost when the swimmer was carried past the entrance to Dover harbor.

STARTS LINE AT
2 A. M. FOR TICKET

Crowds early today besieged the downtown ticket office at 409 Olive street for tickets to the doubleheader reopening today of the
"little world's series."
The first man in line at 8:30 o'clock, when the morning sale of 2800 reserved seats and 1800 boxes
was begun, said that he had been there since 2 a. m. "I was out a bit late, so I decided to get my ticket and then go home to sleep,"
he said.
A man who reached the window
at 9:30 a. m. said he had been there since 6:30 a. m., and that there were about a hundred before him. The waiting line extended from Olive street through an alley to Locust and east on Locust to Fourth street. Police were on hand to keep the fans in line.
There was little disorder.
When the gates at the ball park opened at 11 a. m., there were about 400 persons in line. At that time the number of reserved seats
was increased to 5000 because of

FARRINGTON'S JOB DECLARED VACANT BY MINERS' BOARD

Meeting at Springfield, Ill., Says That President of District No. 12 Has Turned Operator.

SIGNED UP BY COAL COMPANY FOR $25,000

State Union Leader Had Stood on Right to Work for Whom He Pleased— Attacks John L. Lewis.

By the Associated Press. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 30.—Declaring that Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois mine workers (District No. 12), had dropped from the ranks of coal miners and had become an "operator," the executive board today declared his office vacant.

The Executive Board was in session three hours before announcing its decision, which also included the elevation of Vice President Harry Fishwick to Farrington's place.

International President Lewis, who gathered evidence showing that Farrington had signed a contract to work for the Peabody interests, heard of the expulsion at his home here. The expulsion ended a struggle between the following of the two leaders, which has colored all recent Illinois and national conventions of the miners, and in 1922 almost resulted in drastic action when it was charged that Farrington was attempting to obtain a separate wage contract for Illinois miners.

All except one of the board members were known as Farrington men. The one exception is State Senator William J. Sned of Herrin, who several weeks ago announced his candidacy for Farrington's place.

Text of Formal Motion. Secretary Theodore Walter, who announced the formal motion, which the executive board adopted, was as follows: "Moved, that President Farrington be notified that he is suspended at once from the office of president of District 12. That the district officers of America, and that the district executive board stands ready at any time to give him a trial in harmony with the laws of our organization."

Farrington is in Europe. After the board last week had telegraphed him to come home and defend himself or resign, conformity was obtained of the reports that he had accepted an offer of $25,000 a year under a long term contract from the Peabody Coal Co. He has been a leader of the Illinois miners for 20 years and his present salary is $5,000 a year.

Dispatches from Paris last night quoted Farrington as saying he reserved the right to change his employment at his convenience. He said that he had booked passage to the Marseilles sailing Sept. 29, and that he intended to tender his resignation as soon as he arrived in the United States.

Farrington Accuses Lewis.

Farrington was quoted as saying he and International President Lewis had been enemies for many years. He accused Lewis of responsibility for the loss of 155,000 union members. He also was reported to have said that the United States mining industry was 100 per cent over-developed and that union wages were so high that non-union operators could compete with open shop operators.

GERMAN SWIMS CHANNEL, BEATING RECORD BY TWO HOURS

large, specifying that the race take place within 30 days.

If Miss Ederle should accept, Selwyn said, Walter L. Lieberger, of New York, Conn., would give $25,000 to the winner. The prize will be open to all contestants.

Mrs. Corson swam around the island five years ago in 16 hours. Selwyn said that Mrs. Corson had received offers amounting to $200,000 for theatrical and other engagements.

Miss Ederle was ordered by her physician yesterday to avoid a nervous collapse, but she took an automobile ride.

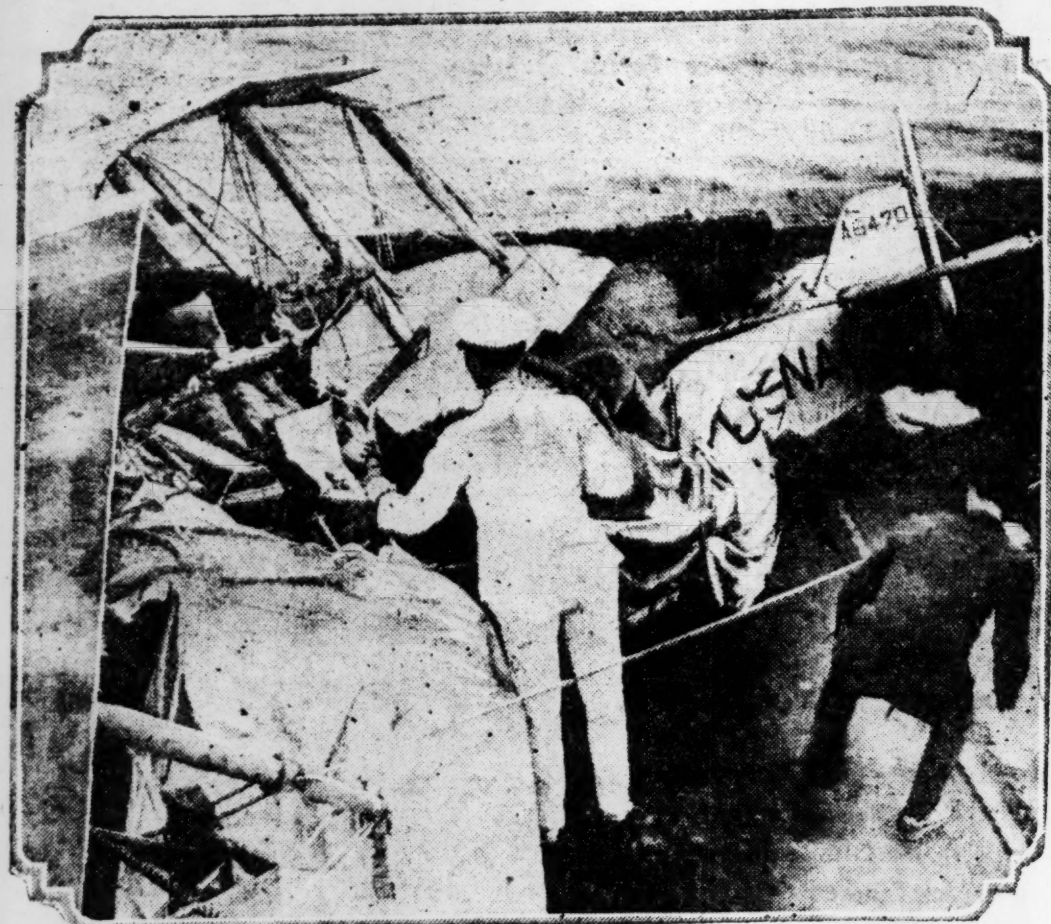

Miss Ederle Challenges Vlietkoeten to Channel Race.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Cableing her congratulations to Otto Vlietkoeten, latest conqueror of the English Channel, Gertrude Ederle today challenged the German recordholder to a race across the channel next summer. Her cablegram follows:

"Congratulations on your great swim. I hope I can race you across the channel next summer to bring the record back to my sex and my country. Good luck."

Theory of Vengeance. The theory of vengeance is supported by the fact that Duffy's method of placing obnoxious customers was generally known to frequenters of the place. It is thought that the altercation may have been deliberately planned to lure him outside.

KILLED JUDGE TO SAVE WIFE, HUSBAND SAYS

Prescott, Ariz., Confectioner Admits Shooting Official— Charged With Murder.

By the Associated Press. PRESCOTT, Ariz., Aug. 30.—E. T. McKellegon, 35-year-old confectioner, shot and killed John H. Robinson, 54 years old, city manager and police judge, shortly after midnight yesterday.

Mrs. McKellegon was treated for a broken finger and a wrenched arm. She and her husband were arrested. The position of Robinson's body indicated he had fallen from his automobile in front of the McKellegon home. From the place where the car was parked a trail of blood was tracked by investigators to the McKellegon home.

McKellegon surrendered himself and a pistol holding five empty shells.

He told the coroner's jury that on returning home he found Robinson struggling with his wife and fired in defense of her. The jury recommended he be bound over to Superior Court on a charge of murder.

Sheriff's officers testified they had been summoned to the McKellegon home shortly after midnight by a telephone call from Mrs. McKellegon at a neighbor's house to the effect that a fight was going on.

A loaded pistol was found in Robinson's automobile. Friends say he always carried it at night. He had held both his offices four years.

The McKellegons were married last January.

COMMANDER RODGERS' BODY TAKEN TO HOME OF PARENTS

Hawaiian Flight Hero Will Be Buried at Arlington National Cemetery Tomorrow.

HAYRE DE GRACE, Md., Aug. 30.—Commander John Rodgers, who was killed Friday in an airplane fall at the Philadelphia navy yard, will be buried tomorrow.

The nation will honor the hero of the San Francisco-Hawaii flight at Arlington National Cemetery. Simple private rites were held this afternoon at the ancestral Rodgers home at Zion Hill.

Commander Rodgers' body has lain in the parlor of his parents home here in a flag-draped casket since Saturday, when it was brought by automobile from Philadelphia.

Yesterday only close friends of the Commander were admitted to the home. Rear Admiral John A. Rodgers, retired, the father, received neighbors' messages of sympathy at the door. The Commander's 72-year-old mother, who went to his bedside at Philadelphia when he called for her, but could not arrive before he died, was nearly overcome with grief when she reached home with the body of her eldest son, and has received no visitors. Another son, Fred, was lost in Alaska 16 years ago.

ALABAMAN SWIMS 92 MILES DOWN RIVER IN 9 1/2 HOURS

Believed to Be World Record for Fresh Water; Plans to Try English Channel.

By the Associated Press. FLOMATON, Ala., Aug. 29.—A world record of fresh water swimming is believed to have been set by W. C. "Bill" Jackson of Floamaton, yesterday, when he swam 92 miles down the Escambia River in nine hours and 33 minutes.

Jackson, who plans to attempt to swim the channel to Catalina Island for the $25,000 prize offered by William C. Wrigley, entered the water at 6:41 a. m. at the Escambia Bridge here and was taken out five miles below Moline, Fla.

While Jackson was aided by a six-mile current, he was handicapped by the cold water which caused him to abandon his original objective, Pensacola, Fla., which would have taken him more than 100 miles. He plans to try the English channel next summer.

The longest distance covered by a fresh water swimmer previously was that of Lillian Hanson, who swam 78 miles in the river Plate in Argentina.

ST. LOUIS WOMAN SUSPECT IN ROBBERY

Chicago Police Trap Thieves— Two Men Killed, Five Wounded.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Holding the bodies of two slain robbers, police sought to learn today from a wounded survivor and three women whether they had caught all of the band that last night fought detectives in an attempt to steal the Sunday receipts of a west side street car barn. The police had advance information of the projected robbery and were ready when the highwaymen arrived.

William Maloney, one of the three who walked into the police trap died today. Ernest de Laverne was captured critically wounded. In his room, Joseph de Laverne was killed in the fight in which three detectives and a traction company executive were wounded.

With the capture of Frances Vaughn, 19-year-old girl, lookout and driver of the robbers' car, police learned that the fifth member of the party was known as Marie Nolan, and that she had been arrested by Frances Vaughn and Miss Alma Maroon, 24 years old, in the belief that one of them might be identified as Miss Nolan, named by Frances Vaughn as the "brains" of the venture. Police said Miss Maroon came here recently from St. Louis and that her description corresponded in many particulars with that of Marie Nolan.

Mrs. de Laverne was taken at her mother's home after police found a note at her own residence bidding her husband to come there "if it gets too hot."

All the participants in the fight were wounded, except the two girls who stayed outside. The injuries of the detectives and the trolley company superintendent are not serious.

Police discounted Mrs. Vaughn's attempted implication of an employee at the car barn, but said he would be questioned. Frances said she came from Chicago from a small Wisconsin town near Green Bay a month ago and was working as a waitress when she met Ernest de Laverne. At the detective bureau she tried to jump from a third story window.

Declaring her clothing and her wounds indicated that she had been a victim of violence, and that the body had been in the water only a few hours, officers called a girl companion of Mrs. Battrell and summoned Edward Moore, with whom they said she was seen last night.

The girl was the custodian of $200 in jewelry and diamonds turned over to her last night by Mrs. Battrell, police said.

Mrs. Battrell was divorced from her husband, a Seattle resident, two years ago. The police learned.

FORMER CONVICT ARRESTED ON MAIL FRAUD CHARGE

Prospective Partner Notifies Better Business Bureau and Taking Into Custody Follows.

Samuel Lee Sheets, 57-year-old ex-convict, was arrested Saturday and charged with using the mails to defraud in promoting a fictitious company with a fictitious bank account.

Released from Leavenworth Prison last November after serving a two-year term for mailing a blackmail letter to a Kirkwood contractor, Sheets went to Chicago, returning to St. Louis 10 days ago. He obtained desk room at 442 Delmar boulevard and advertised for young men to become partners in a time-payment construction company.

His idea, he said, was to obtain eight partners who would invest $1000 each. To impress prospective partners, he showed them a pass book of a Chicago bank, indicating his "company" had $20,000 on deposit. One of the prospects, however, communicated with the Better Business Bureau and Postoffice Inspector Noah, and Sheets was arrested. He insisted his business was an honest one, although admitting the bank deposits were fictitious.

Today a serious charge was lodged against Sheets by his 20-year-old stenographer, employed by him last Tuesday.

ACTRESS IS KILLED IN LEAP FROM AUTO

Glendale, Cal., Police Seek J. Alvin Wycliffe, Husband, on Manslaughter Charge.

By the Associated Press. GLENDALE, Cal., Aug. 30.—Authorities are seeking J. Alvin Wycliffe, writer, on a manslaughter charge following the death here yesterday of his wife, Margaret Morgan Wycliffe, motion picture actress.

Mrs. Wycliffe, known in the films as Margaret Morgan, died at a sanitarium from a crushed skull suffered when she leaped from a driverless automobile. Police reported that during an altercation with her wife, Wycliffe pulled down the throttle and jumped out of the machine. A third occupant of the car, Dave W. Taggart, a friend of Mrs. Wycliffe, started to crawl into the driver's seat but the woman leaped before he could stop the car.

Mrs. Wycliffe's death was said by police to be the culmination of a short but stormy married life of a little more than two months.

Mrs. Wycliffe leaves children by a former marriage, Jackie Morgan, 10 years old, and Dorothy Morgan, 13, both of whom have appeared in the movies.

MISSING WOOD RIVER BANK CASHIER GIVES BOND OF $6000

President, Also Accused of Embezzlement, Released Few Days Ago, Pending Appeal.

I. C. Hatridge, missing cashier of the First State and Savings Bank of Wood River, has appeared at the Sheriff's office and presented himself for $6000 pending his appeal to the Supreme Court on an embezzlement charge.

A few days ago, H. H. Clark, the president, was sent to the Chester Penitentiary on the same charge, but later was released pending the appeal. He was in prison only one day.

Probably Fled in Rowboat.

The slayers of Duffy and McDonald, it is believed, crossed Creve Coeur Lake in a rowboat, and landed in the same way. The rowing boat is one of several on the winding lake road, opposite the popular amusement park on the east shore, and frequenters of the more accessible side of the lake are told: "If you want good home-brew, you can row across the lake and get it."

Duffy was in charge of the place Saturday night, McDonald was at the bar. Frank Spaulding, a waiter, testified that the two slayers came in shortly after midnight and sat drinking soft drinks at a table for two hours. They were drinking beer, together, at 2:30 o'clock when they spied a young woman alone at a table.

They were asking her to dance when her escort appeared and resented their advances. One of the young men punched the escort in the face and the other argued with Duffy who had stepped forward to mediate.

"I grabbed one of the fellows by the collar and pushed him out the door," Spaulding related. "When I turned back into the room I saw Duffy and McDonald had the other fellow by the arms. Duffy was saying, 'Don't start a row house in here. Let's go outside.'"

"They went out the door with the fellow in the middle and I thought everything was settled. Then I heard several shots and I saw Duffy fall against the screen."

The employees testified that the two men and waiters either fled out the back door or threw themselves face down on the floor when the shooting began. It was five minutes before anyone ventured through the door.

On the low porch of the resort was Duffy, dead with a 25-caliber steel-jacketed bullet in the heart. Beside him was McDonald unconscious with a similar bullet near the heart. He died shortly after reaching St. Mary's Hospital.

All Three Disappear.

The two young men had disappeared in the night. No departing automobile was heard and it is believed they ran through the woods to the lake shore.

When Constable Louis Holman of Bonhomme Township arrived at 4 a. m. all customers of the resort were gone. He questioned the employees, who declared they never had seen any of the young men before. Deputy Sheriffs went over the ground later but added nothing to the evidence.

Duffy and McDonald were taken in an automobile to St. Mary's Hospital, where McDonald died shortly after 4 o'clock. By coincidence, Duffy's sister, Sister Ethelreda of the St. Joseph Order, is a patient at St. Mary's, seriously ill. Both men were unmarried.

The three gangsters killed last fall were Vincent Gojieda, Don Holman and James Tully. They helped to a gangster which boasted it would supplant the broken Egan gang, and which frequented the roadhouse.

With two other men, according to Quin's story to police, they tried to hold up the bartender shortly after midnight, Oct. 8. Quin said he obtained two pistols and fired 21 shots as the five men fled to two automobiles. The three were killed as they clambered into a coupe, and a total of 17 bullet wounds were found in their bodies.

THE SLAYERS OF DUFFY AND McDONALD, IT IS BELIEVED, CROSSED CREVE COEUR LAKE IN A ROWBOAT, AND LANDED IN THE SAME WAY. THE ROWING BOAT IS ONE OF SEVERAL ON THE WINDING LAKE ROAD, OPPOSITE THE POPULAR AMUSEMENT PARK ON THE EAST SHORE, AND FREQUENTERS OF THE MORE ACCESSIBLE SIDE OF THE LAKE ARE TOLD: "IF YOU WANT GOOD HOME-BREW, YOU CAN ROW ACROSS THE LAKE AND GET IT."

NEW CAMERA WEAPON IN FIGHTING BURGLARS

Emerges From Steel Case, Photographs Intruders at Work and Withdraws.

By the Associated Press. ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 30.—A new camera film, developed for use by the air service, and which has the power to penetrate the last haze which has made it difficult to obtain detail in aerial photographs, may be used also in a newly developed camera designed to photograph burglars and holdup men. It was learned today.

The camera, the invention of John E. Seehold of La Salle, Ill., may be concealed anywhere in a bank, postoffice, or office building to photograph hold-up men by day or burglars at night. In the daytime, the camera may be worked by the pressure of one or more buttons conveniently located. At night, it operates automatically when intruders come in contact with knobs safe dials drawer-pulls or other means of reaching stored property or money.

The camera, built into a steel case and hidden away in the wall, desk, filing cabinet, or other convenient place desired, employs a flashlight for night work. Once the intruders touch the concealed triggers, the steel case opens to permit functioning of the lens. The flash-light is fired and the picture of the intruders is recorded on a film.

The camera then withdraws into its steel case and concealment out of sight and out of the way of destructive tools.

The device is being built by a Rochester firm.

WOMAN HELD FOR DEBT IS CONTENTED IN JAIL

Mrs. Esther Canis Says She'll Stay Six Months Rather Than Pay Judgment.

Although separated from her
three children and husband because she refuses to pay a $200
court judgment in an assault case,
Mrs. Esther Canis, 33 years old,
wife of a grocer, 1109 Tudor avenue, East St. Louis, remains content in the county jail at Belleville.

"I like it here and am satisfied
to stay," she told her husband,
Harry, who visited her Friday, accompanied by their 8-year-old daughter. He left it up to his wife to decide, saying he would not pay if she was willing to stay there.

Her husband said today that she would not permit him to pay a cent to Mrs. Eva Hurley, a former tenant of the Canis', who had
Mrs. Canis confined under an old Illinois statute that provides for imprisonment in personal injury
cases if the plaintiff will pay $1
a day for the keep of a defendant
who had failed to pay the judgment.

"Let the Hurleys pay something
now, they cost us enough," Canis
said yesterday, referring to grocery bills and rent bills which the Canis claim the Hurleys owed them and over which there were three suits
in the Justice of Peace Courts.
"My wife is a hard-working woman and will get a six months' rest now at Mrs. Hurley's expense," Canis is a property owner and
could pay the judgment if his wife agreed.

Doesn't Like the Food.

At the jail Mrs. Canis refused to discuss her "affair," as she called it, with reporters, but told jailers
she was "perfectly contented," except that she didn't like the food.

She told them not to admit friends or relatives other than those of her immediate family, as she didn't want to be bothered. At home the father is cooking for the three children and taking care of the house in addition to operating the store.

Mrs. Canis is in a special class of prisoners at the Belleville jail
since her board is paid by her former friend, and does not have to help cook, wash dishes or aid in cleaning up the jail as do the rest of the prisoners. The only work
she is required to do is to clean
her quarters, where she is kept with two other women, and to wash her clothes each Saturday
as all prisoners are required to do.
She looks upon this as a rest, since
at home she has the housework,
mending and three children to take care of, in addition to helping wait on the store, her husband said.

Deny Settlement Offer.
At the jail she must arise at 6
a. m. and is served coffee in the dining quarters, waited on by other prisoners. At noon she gets roast beef, potatoes, bread and a vegetable, varied with pig snouts
or pig tails and sauer kraut, two days a week, the jailer said. The evening meal consists of sausage
and bread varied twice a week
with hot frankfurters, all served
by other prisoners.

"Not so bad, I'll stay the six months," Mrs. Canis told the jailer.

Mrs. Blanche W. Davis, attorney for Mrs. Hurley, said her client was just as determined to keep Mrs.
Canis in jail and had the money to pay her board for six months. She said Canis had not approached her
with any offer of settlement.

ASSETS OF POWER TRUCK CO. TO BE SOLD

Stockholders of Firm Fail to Raise $30,000 to Pay Off Present Claims.

All hope of re-establishing the defunct Power Truck and Tractor was abandoned today, as far as the Circuit Court is concerned, when Judge Falkenhainer ordered Receiver Fred Schmoll to sell the assets of the company to satisfy $30,000 in claims.

Approximately $681,000 has been paid into the treasury of the company since its foundation in 1920, by 3000 St. Louis stockholders, most of whom have only modest incomes. Only a small percentage of this will be repaid after the sale of the machinery and plant at 4500 Goodfellow avenue.

Judge Falkenhainer made his order at the close of 60 days of grace allowed upon the representation of P. G. Craven, president and promoter of the organization, that $30,000 would be raised to satisfy the claims.

Prior to making the order, the Court was informed the stockholders' committee had raised only $4367 and had pledged for $9000 more. This the Court judged insufficient to insure payment of claims. Craven said the stockholders' committee might appear from the order.

The company was founded to produce trucks and pleasure automobiles, but fell far short in its production program and never made any extensive sales. The receivership suit was instituted by dissatisfied stockholders in 1923 and a receiver named last January after Craven and some of the stockholders had made every effort to stave off the appointment.

MAN STRUCK AND ROBBED HER AND EMPLOYEE, WOMAN SAYS

Telegraph Operator Accused of Attack at Chicken Dinner Cottage Near Jefferson Barracks.

Herbert Hussmann, a telegraph operator residing at the Breckinridge Hotel, is under arrest today at Clayton charged with assault with intent to kill, on complaint of Mrs. Elsie Stanger, who conducts a chicken dinner cottage on Telegraph road, two miles south of Jefferson Barracks.

Mrs. Stanger said Hussmann came to her place at 3 a. m. in a taxicab, struck her on the head with a revolver, took $355 from a buffet drawer, held up a yardman and robbed him, broke up some furniture and then went out in the yard and sat under a tree. She gave it as her opinion that he had been drinking.

Hussmann made no effort to leave the place and was disarmed by the yardman about 7 a. m. while Hussmann was engaged in an altercation with the taxi driver over the fare. After being disarmed, Hussmann went to sleep, and he was still sleeping when Deputy Sheriff arrived to arrest him.

KRIM DECIDES NOT TO DIE;
NAPOLEON WAS EXILED, TOO
Captive Riff War Lord Abandons
Plan to Kill Self on Way to Reunion Isle.

By the Associated Press.
TANGIER, Aug. 30.—The steamer Abda, with Abd el Krim, his two wives and all their children on board, touched at Tangier yesterday on the way to Morocco, where the former Riff war lord will be transferred to a liner bound for Reunion Island, in the Indian Ocean, his place of exile.
"I regret to leave Morocco," said
the prisoner, "but I have confidence in the generosity of France."
He made no comment when shown a decree issued by the Spanish
military authorities in Morocco
confiscating all his property.
A story was told by passengers
on the Abda to the effect that a few days prior to Krim's departure from Fez, after he had been told that he would be exiled to Reunion,
he and his brother, Si Mohammed,
contemplated killing themselves.
Much diplomacy was exerted to induce him to change his mind. The convincing argument was a comparison of his own fate with that of Napoleon at St. Helena.

OFFICIALS SAY U. S. ONLY CAN REFORM TRADE PRACTICES

Experts Think, Contrary to Coolidge's Views, Matter Should Not Be Left to the States.

Post-Dispatch Bureau.
20-22 Wyatt Bldg.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Federal Trade Commission experts do not share President Coolidge's doubts of Federal power to obtain reports from corporations engaged in interstate commerce, and they think, contrary to his apparent opinion, that the correction of the corporate malpractices pointed out by Prof. William Z. Ripley should not be left to the states.

Prof. Ripley's article, which has precipitated a discussion of remedying inadequate and inaccurate corporation financial statements, for the protection of the investing public, made the point that "blue sky" laws in various states had proved ineffective and that, in consequence, the logical agency to invoke was the Federal Trade Commission, clothed with legislative authority to investigate and report on interstate commerce.

Officials of the commission said today they agreed with the view of Prof. Ripley that state agencies are too prone to become "apologetic or complacent" under local pressure of powerful interests. They added also that some states had become known as sanctuaries of corporations, notably Delaware and Pennsylvania, and that even assuming state effectiveness, the scattering of collected data in 48 jurisdictions would not readily meet the objective of publicity.

If the legal department of the trade board agreed with the President's views, as expressed yesterday from White Pine Camp, it would have to withdraw a pending appeal to the Supreme Court to be consistent. In the case against the Claire Furnace Co. and others, due for decision in October, the commission defends its right to periodic information from concerns engaged in interstate commerce.

The issue of Federal authority probably will be settled by the Supreme Court's decision in this case, already three years old.

TWO MEN KILLED, MANY HURT IN RAIL WRECK IN CHICAGO

Pennsylvania Freight Crashes into Rock Island Train at Suburban Station

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—An engineer and a fireman were killed and several passengers and train employees were injured early today when the locomotive of a Pennsylvania Railroad freight crashed into the engine of a Rock Island passenger train near the Beverly Mills Station of the Rock Island.

Joseph Risberg, a fireman of the Rock Island train, was crushed to death in the cab and the engineer, Stewart Kaufman of Blue Island, Ill., died in a hospital of a fracture of the skull. A. R. Matthews, 40 years old, of Loganport, Ind., engineer of the freight, was seriously injured, while the Pennsylvania fireman and engineer also were hurt. Five passengers on the Aock Island train, inbound from Blue Island, were bruised or cut and others were severely shaken.

An interlocking device at the crossing is said to have failed to operate.

MAN SLAIN BY GUESTS IN AUTO

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Joseph Pazio, bodyguard and chauffeur for Antonio Spano, gunman and beer runner, slain a week ago, was shot to death by three men riding with him in his sedan.

Pazio's body, with two bullet wounds in the back of the head, was found yesterday in a ditch beside his overturned car. The car apparently ran into the ditch and overturned after the killers had leaped from it while it was in motion. A revolver, which had not been discharged, was found on the body of Pazio.

EX-SENATOR LEWIS MEETS LAWYERS FOR JUDGE ENGLISH

Defence Prepares for Impeachment Trial He Forecasts Third Party in Illinois.

Former United States Senator J. Hamilton Lewis of Chicago, conferred at Hotel Jefferson yesterday with other attorneys associated with him in the defense of Federal Judge George W. English of East St. Louis, against whom there is an impeachment proceeding, based on alleged misdemeanors in office, to be heard beginning Nov. 16 by the United States Senate sitting as a trial court. He said Judge English would be ready for trial on that date. Former Judge E. C. Kramer of East St. Louis will direct the defense.

Discussing politics, Lewis said Senator Reed of Missouri would make a popular presidential candidate with the voters of Illinois. The senatorial campaign in Illinois, in which Frank Smith, Republican, and George Brennan, Democrat, are opposed, presents such a complication of issues as to make it impossible at this time to forecast a winner. Lewis thinks that Illinois, before the November election, will have a strong third party organization with a candidate opposed to Smith and Brennan. The prohibitionists, he added, are organizing and may put a woman candidate for the United States Senate in the field.

SEEK U. S. ROBBERS IN BRITAIN

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Aug. 30.—Scotland Yard detectives have begun a search for three robbers, brothers named Dautremont, wanted in the United States for the murder of a train in Siskiyou County, California, in 1923. The men are supposed to be in England. A reward of $15,000 for their capture has been offered by the United States Government. Two of the brothers, Roy and Ray, are 26-year-old twins. The third is Hugh, the youngest.

"Worthy of Care"
"Just a little trouble at times, but I have one daily little practice that I know protects his health," says this child's mother.

JUST as with older folks, infectious diseases find the nose of the baby or the child an open gateway.
The nose must be kept clean. It must be kept healthy. It must be cleared of germs. Daily nasal hygiene is of utmost importance. Disease prevention is the soundest doctrine in modern medicine today.

Thousands of mothers know that daily nasal cleanliness can be brought about if one little task is employed each day. There is never the danger of colds, stuffed heads, difficult breathing and infectious diseases.
Apply ARZEN night and morning in the nostrils with the provided medicine dropper. The nasal passages are opened and cleared. Disease germs are routed. You can know that baby's health is not likely to be in danger.

Let them have the complete advantage of their full natural breathing. The whole body will benefit.

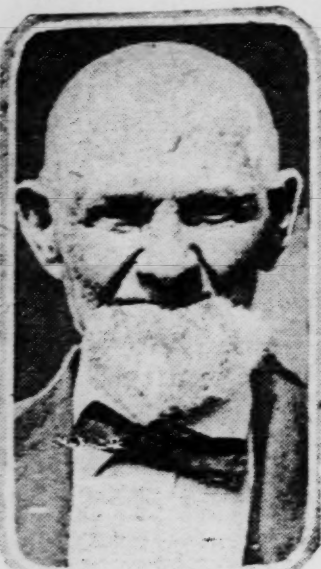

Daily nasal hygiene is important as all mothers realize. We know full well that it is necessary to keep the nose as clean as the face if we wish to promote good health.

SPECIFIC "SES"
Arzen used daily prevents colds. Stops them if started. Excellent for Hay Fever Relief. An aid in sinus trouble. Daily nasal cleanliness prevents infectious disease. Keep the nose as clean as the face.

"Sage of Carondelet" Who Was Buried Today

"DADDY" CHAMBERS

A LARGE number of friends this morning attended the funeral of Frank Chambers, 164 years old, known as "Daddy" Chambers, the sage of Carondelet, which took place from St. Columbkille's Church, 3200 Michigan avenue, with interment in Mount Olive Cemetery. Six grandchildren carried the casket.
Chambers, who was born in County Cork, Ireland, came to this country when 10 years old. Most of his life he had been a railroad man. In later years, after he had retired from work, he held an open forum in South Side Square, Carondelet, where with elderly cronies he settled public questions to the satisfaction of his audience.

AMERICAN LEGION GROUPS OPEN STATE CONVENTIONS

Moberly (Mo.) Session May Oppose Going to Paris Because of Anti-American Feeling.

By the Associated Press.
MOBERLY, Mo., Aug. 30.—With more than 1000 delegates in attendance, the annual State Conventions of the American Legion, Ladies' Auxiliary and the Society of the Forty and Eight, were formally opened here this morning.
Practically all of the 225 Legion posts in the State were represented, eight of them sending either bands or drum corps.
Col. E. M. Statton, of Kansas City, State commander, brought the Legion's convention to order, while Mrs. Hilda Kansteiner of St. Louis, State president, presided at the auxiliary's session. Robert D. Turner of St. Louis, grand chief-de-garde, wielded the gavel at the Forty and Eight meeting.
Expressions from legionnaires today indicated that a resolution will be passed in opposition to holding the Legion's 1927 convention in Paris. The opposition is the result of recent Paris demonstrations against Americans.
Gen. John J. Pershing likely will be endorsed for national commander. It was said today.
Election of a new State commander is scheduled late tomorrow. Four candidates are in the race. They are: Harry Castlen of St. Louis; Redick O'Bryan of Moberly; Dan Nee of Springfield and Dr. Neal Williams of Excelsior Springs. Col. Statton's name may be proposed for re-election by the Kansas City delegation. Castlen's candidacy has gained wide support.
A parade today will be followed by a barbecue, after which the Forty and Eight will stage a sham battle.
Tomorrow will be given over entirely to business.

HUNT FOR DE SOTO GIRL, 16
Parents Say Her Suitor Also Is Missing; Think They Elope.
Mr. and Mrs. Albert Washburn of De Soto, Mo., were canvassing the marriage license bureaus in St. Louis and neighboring cities today in search of their daughter, Alberta, 16 years old.
The young woman disappeared from her room between 4 and 5 o'clock this morning, the parents said, and a youth who had been her suitor, also was reported missing from De Soto, after borrowing an automobile from a friend. Alberta's sister, Thelma, told her parents she heard her sister and the youth talking yesterday about marriage.

OTHER STATES AID MISSOURI PLEA FOR WOMEN ON JURIES

National and Various Sectional Leagues of Voters Become Active in Behalf of Campaign.

SEEK TO AMEND CONSTITUTION

Literature Supplied to Meet Arguments of Opponents—Lists Exemptions That Will Be Needed.

In its campaign this fall to have the Missouri State Constitution amended to permit women to serve on juries, the Missouri League of Women Voters will have the cooperation of the National League of Women Voters, which expects eventually to win jury service for women in every one of the 48 states.

Women are now eligible for jury service in the following states: Arkansas, California, Delaware, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Nevada, New Jersey, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Utah, Washington and Wisconsin.

Will Missouri be next in line? To bring this about it will be necessary for the Legislature to call a special election and for the citizenry of Missouri to vote to amend the Constitution which now limits jury work to men.

Jurists Indorse Women Jurors. To combat the usual arguments raised against the presence of women on juries, the National League and various State leagues have supplied the Missouri League with campaign literature. The National League publishes indorsements of women jurors by many experienced men and women, including Judge Robert Marx of the Superior Court, Cincinnati; Judge Harry B. Grossman of the Municipal Court, Cleveland; Circuit Judge Oscar M. Fritz of Milwaukee; District Judge William A. Gant, Duluth, Minn.; Judge Florence Allen of the Supreme Court, Ohio, and Justice W. Craig of the District Court of Appeals, Los Angeles.

"Is a housekeeper to decide a case involving the guilt or innocence of one accused of offering for sale decayed foods to the public?" asks the National League.

"Is a ribbon salesman better equipped than a mother to estimate the damages suffered by a young girl who has been seriously injured in an automobile accident?"

"Is a bank clerk better equipped than a woman buyer to decide a dispute involving the quality of clothing material?"

"Is a man better equipped than a woman to judge the sanity or insanity of a person whose will is being questioned on that ground?"

Women on Par With Men. "Of course, it is true, as is contended by some, that there are women who have not the sense to judge these things," a woman has so aptly said. "I do not deny that women are foolish. God Almighty made them to match the men."

"Shall we say that a woman shall have the right to make wills, to select her own wages, to do business, to speak in public, to hold office, to enter professions, to hold office, to vote, to practice law in the courts, to testify in court, to sue and be sued, and yet not have the right to sit in the jury box?"

Exemptions Necessary. "The right of trial by jury was intended to give every citizen a trial by an impartial jury and judgment by one's peers. Can we say that a woman or girl on trial is receiving a trial by an impartial jury when women are not eligible as jurors?" To say that a woman before the bar is entitled to judgment by her peers, and then to exclude women from the jury room is to misinterpret the spirit which underlies our institutions. Jury service for women is another step toward the attainment of that universal justice for which the American nation stands.

Appropriate exemptions from jury service should be provided for women, as appropriate exemptions for men are now provided. Among the men who are exempted are doctors, lawyers, dentists, pharmacists, veterinarians, preachers, school teachers, city officials, ship captains and engineers. In addition to these classes the following women should be exempt: Trained nurses, assistants in hospitals, attendant nurses, women nursing sick members of their own family, and mothers having a child or children under 12 years of age, or women having the legal custody of such children. Of course all persons, whether men or women, if ill or otherwise physically incapacitated, are exempt.

VICTORIEN SARDOU'S fine old drama—"Diplomacy," has been taken down from the shelf, dusted off, treated with airplanes and automobiles, automatic pistols and mustard gas machines and made into an ultra modern movie play something after the manner of putting Hamlet in plus-fours. Unfortunately in bringing this old-timer up to the manner of Hollywood all of the intelligence of the original version has been shaken out and the result is a surprising mixture of farce comedy and deep dyed melodrama which ends with a George M. Cohan musical-comedy-wave-the-flag finish while the orchestra or the organ, depending upon what time you happen to be in the Missouri Theater, plays The Star Spangled Banner. The effort is further complicated by so long that it is difficult to follow the different characters as they dash upon the screen despite the fact that this same cast is as fine a one as could be got together. There are moments when the piece proves entertaining but on the whole "Diplomacy" is just as pretty terrible. If you will shut your eyes while the picture is on however and wait for the stage show you will feel that your admission money has been well spent for the Eight Victor Artists, which includes such favorites, Ellen Burr, Billy Murray and Jim Stanley provide a half hour or so of genuine enjoyment.

See America First.

REX INGRAM made an ambitious stab at a screen epic with "Mare Nostrum," which, we are reliably informed, means Our Sea, but he got to wandering all through Europe searching, apparently, for pretty doorways in which to photograph Alice Terry and Tony Moreno, and lost track of the drama, although he found plenty of fine spots to shoot with the camera. The scenes are laid all over the map jumping rather wildly between Athens, Pompeii, Nice, Barcelona, Marseilles, Rome, Paris and a few more places which we do not recall, to say nothing of some views of life under water in a submarine which are rather fine. Miss Terry is introduced as a woman, an spy who just loves snakes and octopuses and then the rest of the picture is devoted to proving that she wasn't that sort of a girl at all. Everybody in the picture, which is at Loew's State this week, gets killed off in the end, although there is a sort of epilogue which shows that Tony Moreno, who was drowned when a German submarine sank his ship in the Mediterranean, and Miss Terry, who faced a firing squad in Paris, are reunited at the bottom of the sea. Maybe the French coast and tossed down to the south coast and tossed it overboard. You never can tell about the French, they're terribly romantic.

What Color Hair, Please?

THE picture at the St. Louis this week is called "The Honorary Express," which is a better title would be "Revitalized Silver Threading Among the Gold." Irene Rich, at the start of the story, has let her laughter lines sag, her arches fall and has that school-marm complexion. As a result, SHE LOOKS HER YEARS. And as a result of that, Daddy (the late Willard Louis) starts playing around with gold diggers, who do one of the dozen, but he has a good time while the gin lasts. Irene has a son and two daughters. The son and one daughter follow their father's example, but the other daughter is a good girl. She proves it by leaving home, evoked by her daughter's revolt. Irene leaves home, too, and visits Ye Beauty Shoppe. She gets a new coat of duco, a complete trim from top to toe with all accessories. The current price for complete rejuvenation of this sort is $36.75 ($42.50 if with Imperishable Golden Glow). Irene, a picture shiny new woman when it is over, wins her erring children back and could have had Daddy back. But she spurns him and marries the head of a firm of architects, who makes love peppily. Tragic reflections must come to anyone who views this picture. What if there are Negroes in the world who couldn't pay for more than a permanent wave? And what, if these wives left home, they found the supply of architects exhausted? We ask you. What?

MAKING READY MONEY. At Kings "READY MONEY" at Kings and Rival is one of those pictures which keep movie magazines in Rolls Royces, alimony funds and other incidental expenses while they are waiting for their super-productions to produce the thoroughbred for Long Island villas, Hollywood palaces and a new wife every other season. It was made on spare afternoons at a New York studio because someone left a plot lying carelessly about. The story is a take-off on the go-getter, but ends in believing in itself. We have Owen Moore engaged in the promotion of a pleasure resort somewhere down the coast from New York City. He waters circulares over Manhattan with a squadron of airplanes, charts a yacht to take customers to Pleasure Island, see that his wife (Claire Windsor) from whom he is estranged is lured on board, and sets sail. A series of entirely silly masquerades as a woman doctor occupies Owen's attention, the yacht is captured by hi-jackers and then by revenue men, Owen and his wife are reconciled and the pleasure resort is a bang-up success. This story is not for children.

dren, who demand to be amused. On the program also is a re-showing of "The Eagle" next to the last picture made by Rudolph Valentino. By way of post-mortem one might say that all of the audience within earshot of the reviewer seemed to feel Valentino's passing keenly. One woman said to her escort: "They'll never find another like Rudy," and her escort said, "I hope not," which illustrates the two prevailing estimates of a very good movie actor.

LAUNCHING THE S. O. T. M. O. F. P. H. R.
THE Society Opposed to Men Over Forty Playing Hero Roles was launched last night before a large and apathetic audience at the Grand Central Theater after they had seen Francis X. Bushman in "The Marriage Clause." The movement started in the twenty-second row next to the aisle when a gray-bearded man with a wen on his neck said to the man next to him: "How many grandchildren has Francis X. Bushman now?" His neighbor replied, "I don't know, but I saw him play with Beverly Bayne in a movie in 1912. He was a mounted policeman." Last night Bushman was a stage director who loved a beautiful actress (Billie Dove). She can't marry him because there is a clause in her contract forbidding her to get married or fat. A theatrical manager fires Bushman, who goes from bad to worse. Without him Billie languishes, forgets her lines, swoons on the stage and is carried out in a practically dying condition. Bushman comes back for a thrilling scene of dying scene. He talks her out of dying. First she says she thinks she'll die anyway, but being truly feminine, changes her mind and decides that now her lover is back she will live. "You're coming back," he tells her sternly, and she does and puts her arms around him and gives him a healthy hug.

Packing 'Em In.
"PALS FIRST," a most entertaining stage show, which opened the Ambassador Theater last Thursday, continues as this week's attraction at the new downtown picture house.

38,000 PERSONS SAW INDUSTRIAL ART SHOW

City Museum Also Reports Increased Attendance at the Children's Hours.

The selected collection of objects from the International Exposition of Modern Decorative and Industrial Art, Paris, 1925, held at the City Art Museum from July 20 to Aug. 20, was seen by 38,257 persons and was one of the most popular exhibitions held in the galleries. It was diverse in its interest and was more nearly related to the home than previous displays had been, because of the furniture, rugs, glass, metal, textiles and pottery of which it was largely comprised.

The museum's educational activities for the summer won a larger response than usual. The series of 10 story hours for children, given twice each week, had an attendance of 981. Many children have attended several sessions. It was diverse in its interest and was more nearly related to the home than previous displays had been, because of the furniture, rugs, glass, metal, textiles and pottery of which it was largely comprised.

The children are permitted to select their own prizes. "An Incident in the French Revolution," by Julian Story, and "The Dash for Timber," by Frederick Remington, were rivals in popularity, 17 of each having been chosen.

The museum hour for adults has proved only a little less popular than the children's hour, as an attendance of 767 was recorded. This makes a gain of 606 persons in the summer activities of the museum over last year.

Many at Feast of Saint Louis.
 The observance of the patronal feast of Saint Louis, at the Old Cathedral yesterday, was attended by many members of other parishes, who take this annual occasion to visit the historic church at Second and Walnut streets. The Rev. Father Theodore Schulte delivered the panegyric on the saint, and the Rev. Father J. A. de Moor was celebrant of the mass.

TO 450,000 COLLEGE STUDENTS:

MORE THAN 450,000 young men and women will enroll in the colleges and universities of the United States for the year 1926-27.

A generation ago college students were told that the white-collar jobs were the law, the ministry, and medicine. These were professions; they ministered to mankind.

Business was looked upon as something a little lower than the professions. The business man was a money-grubber. Tradesman, shop-keeper, barter, money-changing, all the traffic will bear, the public be damned—were familiar phrases.

It took courage for a college man to say he was going into business.

TODAY business makes a just claim on the professional spirit. The money profit is there, as it has always been, because profit is the yardstick by which success in business can be measured.

The saving of a soul, the saving of a life, obtaining justice for a client—these were the goals of the professions.

But a fair profit is just as professional. A bankrupt injures society no less than a poor doctor or a poor lawyer.

Monuments are not built to any of them.

THE AMERICAN business man today is not ashamed to admit that he is making money. With few exceptions he is making it honorably, honestly, and for the good of the community.

He feels that he, too, is ministering to his fellow-man—to his material needs.

He is raising by centuries the standards of living of millions of people. A carpet sweeper, the world's best music on a disc, individual transportation, a thermostat for the furnace, a tungsten light, radio!

He carries on where the inventor leaves off. Manufacturing, arousing the desire to buy, distributing, financing—these are his contributions.

FRENCHMAN ESCORTS GERMAN TO SEAT OF HONOR AT GENEVA

Gesture of Reconciliation Warmly Applauded; Jane Addams Represents U. S. at Peace Parley.

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, Aug. 29.—The spectacle of Paul Loebe, president of the German Reichstag, being escorted to a seat of honor by a French delegate, featured the opening session today of the twenty-fifth universal peace congress. This gesture of reconciliation warmly applauded. The United States was represented by Miss Jane Addams. M. La Fontaine, vice president of the Belgian Senate, declared the congress aimed to fight financial and economic imperialism just as the previous congresses fought political and military imperialism. One proposal before the congress is to organize a great manifestation of reconciliation either at Philadelphia before the close of the Sesqui-centennial, or at the Acropolis in Athens, the forum in Rome or the Champ de Mars in Paris.

CANCELLATION OF ALL WAR DEBTS, URGED BY BAKER

look for our rubber supply to British plantations.
If it be true, as Winston Churchill stated in his recent remarks referring to the Stevenson Restriction Legislation, that "one of the principal means of paying the debt to America is in the provision of rubber," has not the American consumer lost his sense of humor when he rails against Great Britain's "big returns" in the face of the fact that our own war-born monopolies in goods of every nature not only brought billions of profits to America at the expense of the entire world, but were the direct cause of adding hundreds of millions to the very debts whose payments we now demand?

That this attitude has not been the real purpose of either the Government or of the people of the United States is true, but unfortunately, it is the color our acts have taken and the consequence is that returning travelers tell us that never in our history has the United States been so feared, disliked abroad. At the same time as at home there is agricultural discontent and distrust and anxieties scanning of skies to see whether we are industrially sound and can continue to maintain the American standard of living.

EVERY country in the world has had the experience of a vast and hopeless debtor class and has realized that every so often it is necessary to wipe off the slate and start afresh as in a scriptural year of Jubilee. This releases the energies of men, restores hope, cures political disorder and gives life a fresh start. The analogy applies perfectly to the present international situation. The United States needs not dollars but a confident, prosperous and peaceful world as a field for its industrial and commercial operations. This condition can not be brought about so long as we continue to exact payments up to the capacity of the debtors to pay.

U. S. Not Justified in Its Attitude.
If the foregoing observations are sound, the United States is not justified either in morale or in a long view of its own best industrial and commercial interests in adhering to its present policy with regard to the settlement of the interrelated debts.

The time has come when these questions, including the British settlement ought to be re-opened. Personally, I believe that a mutual cancellation policy will be wise. Such a policy ought to relieve England, France, Italy, Belgium and the rest of our war allies both as to their debts to us and their debts among themselves, and in turn ought to require the release of some part of the burdens imposed upon Germany. This should be done at a round table, where a representative of the United States should be authorized to speak with authority and to demonstrate to the rest of the world that America's interest is not in dollars but in a reconstructed international order, with as much as possible of the grief of the World War swept into oblivion and the great industrial nations of the world freed to start afresh with harmony and good will, in fair economic competition and in at least enough political co-operation to preserve peace in the common interest.

PART THREE

REDS SCORE ONE RUN IN FIRST INNING OF GAME IN CHICAGO

TILDEN AND CHAPIN WIN FIRST MATCH

Tennis Champion and New Partner Defeat Seattle Pair, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4, in National Doubles.

By the Associated Press
BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 30.—William T. Tilden and Alfred H. Chapin Jr., began their quest of the national doubles championship today with a straight set victory over Wallace Scott and Theodore McDonald of Seattle, Wash., Pacific Northwest titleholders, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4.

The Far West combination rained a barrage of terrific shots into the court of the national singles champion and his partner from Springfield, Mass., but their attack was lacking in control. Tilden and Chapin, without extending themselves, were able to carry off the match in straight sets by a waiting game, the Seattle pair making most of their errors at the net.

Scott's service proved a powerful weapon after the first set, during which he experienced difficulty controlling the delivery. In the second and third sets, however, he used the victors repeatedly.

Despite a warm sun which beat down upon the courts, Tilden and Chapin played throughout in their sweaters, shooting their drives at the feet of the Washington men as they made their futile dashes for the barrier.

FIRST ROUND.
William T. Tilden, Philadelphia, and Alfred H. Chapin Jr., Springfield, Mass., defeated Wallace Scott and Theodore McDonald, Seattle, Wash., 6-3, 6-3, 6-4.
Kenneth Appel and John Van Ryn, New York, defeated Anton von Bernuth and Harry Wolf, New York, 6-1, 6-0, 6-4.
Henry Norton and Leslie Johnson, St. Paul, won by default from C. Alphonse Smith and Edward Jacobs, Baltimore.

Pyle Asserts He Approached No U. S. Net Stars

States He Will Wait Till After National Singles Before Signing Players.

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Charles C. Pyle, sports promoter, who has Suzanne Lenglen, French tennis star, under contract to play a series of matches in the United States, has no "business arrangement" with any member of the American Davis Cup team.

Pyle's admission that he had not approached any member of the team was made here yesterday after William T. Tilden II, Vincent Richards, William Johnston and R. Norris Williams, members of the team, had emphatically denied that they had any offer from Pyle under consideration.
At a banquet in Philadelphia Thursday night, Pyle said, speaking of Mile. Lenglen's approaching engagements here:
"Her opponent will be one of the American team members. I am not at liberty yet to state which one it will be, because I do not wish to do anything to jeopardize the chances of America in the international matches to be played here next month. I will announce the name of the player Sept. 15."

To Arrange Later.
The promoters' statement here last night does not challenge his Philadelphia statement but denies the existence of a "business arrangement." He reserves the right to attempt to perfect such an arrangement later.

Pyle's statement follows:
"The statement that I said I had made some business arrangements with one of the American Davis Cup team is unqualifiedly false. I made no such statement. It would be futile for me to deny that I hope and expect to surround Mile. Lenglen with star tennis players of the first magnitude during her tour of North America."

Can Suit Themselves.
"After the Davis Cup tournament and the national men's singles have been completed I will not hesitate to address myself in an honorable fashion to the members of this team, as well as any other great tennis player, man or woman, in the country. At that time if they do not wish to talk to me, that will be up to them, but at the moment I have not approached any of them, either directly or indirectly, and have absolutely no

36,000 See the Cardinals And Pirates Open Series, Record Gate of $40,000

Heaviest Receipts and Second Largest Crowd in St. Louis Baseball History—Rain Interrupts Game, Darkness Ends It.

By William F. Allen.
Seldom are so many vicissitudes of baseball crowded into one afternoon as at yesterday's opening of the "little world's series" between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Pittsburgh Pirates—a 2-2 drawn game, interrupted twice by rain, ended by darkness and salted throughout with moving moments of great play.

The second largest crowd in St. Louis baseball history filled the stands at Sportsman's Park and trickled out onto the playing field—a paid admission of 35,978 or a total attendance in excess of 36,000.

The paid crowd was 1218 short of the 37,196 who witnessed an early season double header between the Cardinals and Chicago Cubs, but an armored money-wagon backed up to the gate, in the darkness and took away more than $40,000, the biggest one-day gate ever recorded here because the number of seats reserved was larger by several thousand than usual.

It was a clattering crowd, seldom still, yelling at every pitched ball, when play was on, torn to shreds and the next excited to thunderous cheering when masterful pitching or miraculous fielding choked off a Pirate threat.

A patient crowd, too, for in four hours and 55 minutes elapsing between the start of the game and its end, there was only one hour and 54 minutes of baseball—more than three hours of inaction through rain. The game will go into the records for longevity.

It was a crowd eager to pile on the Cardinals every encouragement for a valiant thrust at the first pennant for St. Louis since 1888; a crowd aquiver with the knowledge that whether the pennant is won or lost, likely will be understanding, business or otherwise, expressed or implied, with any member of this team."

On his arrival at New York from France two weeks ago, Pyle announced that his tennis troupe, including Suzanne Lenglen, would consist of 10 "of the greatest tennis players in the world," and that he would announce "their names Sept. 15."

BILL ROBINSON, 'DARK CLOUD OF JOY,' ON BILL AT ORPHEUM

Taylor Holmes Presides as Master of Ceremonies, but Seems Out of His Element.

Bill Robinson, Negro king of all the tap dancers, who was clogging his way to favor in the days of the elder Pat Rooney, is making his annual visit to St. Louis at the Orpheum this week. The "dark cloud of joy" with his flash of ivory and twinkling feet, tacking down intricate patterns in teasing rhythms, as he always does, makes the program well worth while, although there is not much else of outstanding merit. Bill's waiters clog is a smooth ripple of footwork, his triple-time Charleston a marvel of dexterity. He stops the show, as is his habit.

Taylor Holmes, bright star of the legitimate stage, a deservedly popular comedian, who was last here in "The Nervous Wreck," is making his debut in vaudeville as master of ceremonies. He tells some not-so-very funny stories, recites about 37 yards of poetry and smiles indulgently and graciously at the cash customers. He is out of his proper element.

Others on the program are: The Four Karrys, amazing contortionists; Joe Marks and company in a burlesque hangover; Al Tucker and his "society" orchestra, dressed up as tramps; and making a lot of racket, Venita Gould, mimic, whose newest impersonation is of Tony-Leyo, the half-caste. In "White Cargo," George Wiser and Ray Stanton and others in a melange of foolery; and Earl and Bob, equilibrist, who have one real stunt, if any one stays to watch it.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—A great disturbance developed in the House of Commons today with constant outcries from the labor benches when Home Secretary J. H. Thomas moved a resolution authorizing the continuance of the present emergency regulations in connection with the coal strike.

The chairman finally suspended Jack Jones, the Labor member, because of his many verbal attacks on the Conservatives.

Summer Heat

The effect of hot waves in our localities would not be so pros- trating were it not for the amount of moisture in the air. In a moist atmosphere an undue amount of blood is brought to the surface of the body, both our mental and physical activity is reduced, we feel depressed, and the body temperature often rises, affecting the nervous and circulatory system.

The injurious effects of summer heat are practically always the result of combined heat and humidity. If a rise in body temperature is avoided, there is no known injury caused by working in a moist warm air. The injurious effect is a disinclination to mental and physical effort and a loss of appetite.

Much of the discomfort of hot weather can be mitigated by observing the utmost cleanliness of the body, of the covering and of the surroundings. Copious perspiration causes the unpleasantness of unclean, objectionable odors and perspiration irritate the already sensitive (skin) by wearing the least clothing; baring the arms and legs; avoiding the sun in the heat of the day; frequent baths in cool (not cold) water; bathing the neck, hands and forearms in cool water. Electric fans that keep the air in circulation are a boon in workrooms, a large area of ice near the fans will keep the air cool on the hottest day.

The digestion is lowered and the appetite is indifferent, only the lightest foods should be taken. Do not make the mistake of using your rooms to exclude the heat and light except when the sun is at its height.

Measuring Laughter. MACHINE for measuring the amount of laughter and applause was recently tried out on a Broadway theater. The box containing the indicating apparatus was placed at the back of the audience, and showed the various effects of the "gag" lines as flashed on the screen.

Add a very thinly sliced lemon with pips removed, a teaspoonful of mixed ground spices, half teaspoonful of curry powder, a tablespoonful of finely chopped green ginger. The daily rule that thousands follow now

Wash your face gently with Palmolive Soap, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of good cold cream—that is all.

Use this regularly, and particularly in the evening. Use powder and rouge if you wish. But never leave them on over night. They clog the pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. They must be washed away. Just do this and your skin will be so soft and lovely—wrinkles will be less a problem as the years advance.

Get real Palmolive Do not use ordinary soaps in the treatment given above. Do not think any green soap, or represented as of palm and olive oils, is the same as Palmolive.

It costs but 10c the cake!—so little that millions let it do for their bodies what it does for their faces. Obtain a cake today. Then note what an amazing difference one week makes. The Palmolive Company (Del. Corp.), Chicago, Illinois.

Reddy Rubs His Eyes

It certainly is very queer
How helpless things can disappear.
—Reddy Fox.

REDDY FOX roamed quite a way down the beach, poking his inquisitive nose into this and that and the other thing. He pulled over seaweed and he poked under pieces of wood that had been washed ashore; he went up on the sand dunes to see if he could find a mouse anywhere. But all the time he kept thinking about those queer jelly masses he had left behind. Reddy cannot bear to be puzzled. When he is interested in a thing, he wants to know about it.

Looking far down the beach, Reddy saw Graywing the Gull. Graywing was fishing. He was out over the water, but now and then he would alight on a big rock on the shore.

"Graywing seems to know all about the things on the beach, so perhaps he can tell me what those things are, and here they came from, and all about them," thought Reddy, and off he started in the direction of Graywing.

Graywing saw Reddy coming and remained sitting on the big rock until Reddy reached him. "Hello, Neighbor Fox," said he, "what is on your mind now? Don't tell me that you have nothing on your mind, for I know better."

Reddy looked up at Graywing and grinned. "You must be a mind-reader, Neighbor Gull," said he. "There is something on my mind. Perhaps I shouldn't say it is on my mind, for really it is on the beach up there. But it certainly is bothering me."

"Well, what is it?" inquired Graywing.

Reddy grinned more broadly than ever. "That's what I want to know," said he; "what is it? I don't know how to describe it to you, so when you get through catching your breakfast, why not go back up the beach with me? I am sure you will know what it is, for your know everything."

"Tut, tut, Neighbor Fox; you flatter me," exclaimed Graywing, but he looked pleased nevertheless.

"Not at all! Not at all!" replied Reddy. "When I am with you I feel as if I know nothing at all."

Graywing looked more pleased than ever. "We'll go right up there and see these things which have been puzzling you, Neighbor Fox," said he. "You trot along up the beach and I will join you by the time you get there."

This was just what Reddy wanted. He turned his head to hide a grin of satisfaction. "Thank you, Neighbor Gull," said he. "It isn't far up there, and when you get there you will find the beach just covered with these queer things. I suppose they came out of the water, but I don't know. My, this sun is hot, isn't it?"

Graywing nodded. Then he flew out over the water in search of something more to eat. Reddy watched him a moment, then turned and trotted up the beach. Presently he reached the place where he and Jimmy Skunk had been so puzzled by those queer jelly masses. Reddy stopped very abruptly and blinked, both eyes. Then he rubbed first one and then the other. Not one of those little masses of jelly could he see. He looked all around to see if he was in the right place. He was. He was sure of that. There were his footprints in the sand, and the footprints of Jimmy Skunk. But all those little masses of jelly had disappeared. Reddy's first thought was that Jimmy Skunk had done something with them. What he could have done with them Reddy didn't stop to think. He looked about for Jimmy. Jimmy wasn't in sight. He had gone back home to sleep.

"Well, where are those things you want to know about?" inquired Graywing the Gull, alighting on the beach near Reddy.

The Man on the Sandbox

by L. Davis

IT'S A TOUGH LIFE, BOYS.
THE Cards are having ups and downs; Dame Fortune smiles and then frowns. And then she smiles again. Before the final game is played. The fans, we're very much afraid. Will crack beneath the strain.

The rooster follows every pitch and gives his leg a nervous twitch as pellets cross the pan. And while this pennant chasing stuff, Upon the player may be tough, It's tougher on the fan.

The situation is so keen. Long lines of rooters may be seen Outside the baseball park. And fans who used to slumber late To be on hand to crash the gate. Are rising with the lark.

QUITE SO.
Whether the Cards win the pennant or not we thank them for the busy ride. We've all had a wonderful time.

If we lose we will again take up the white man's burden in the spring with malice toward none and charity for all. That's us!

The Browns haven't had what you would call a banner year, but they have seventh place practically clinched, and have nothing to worry about.

Next year we look for the Browns to do better. There's no law against looking in any man's league.

QUITE SO.
Paddy Mullins, manager of Harry Wills, says there ain't going to be no fight between Dempsey and Tunney at Philly, as he is going to stop it. We don't know how he is going to do it, but where there's a Will's there's a way.

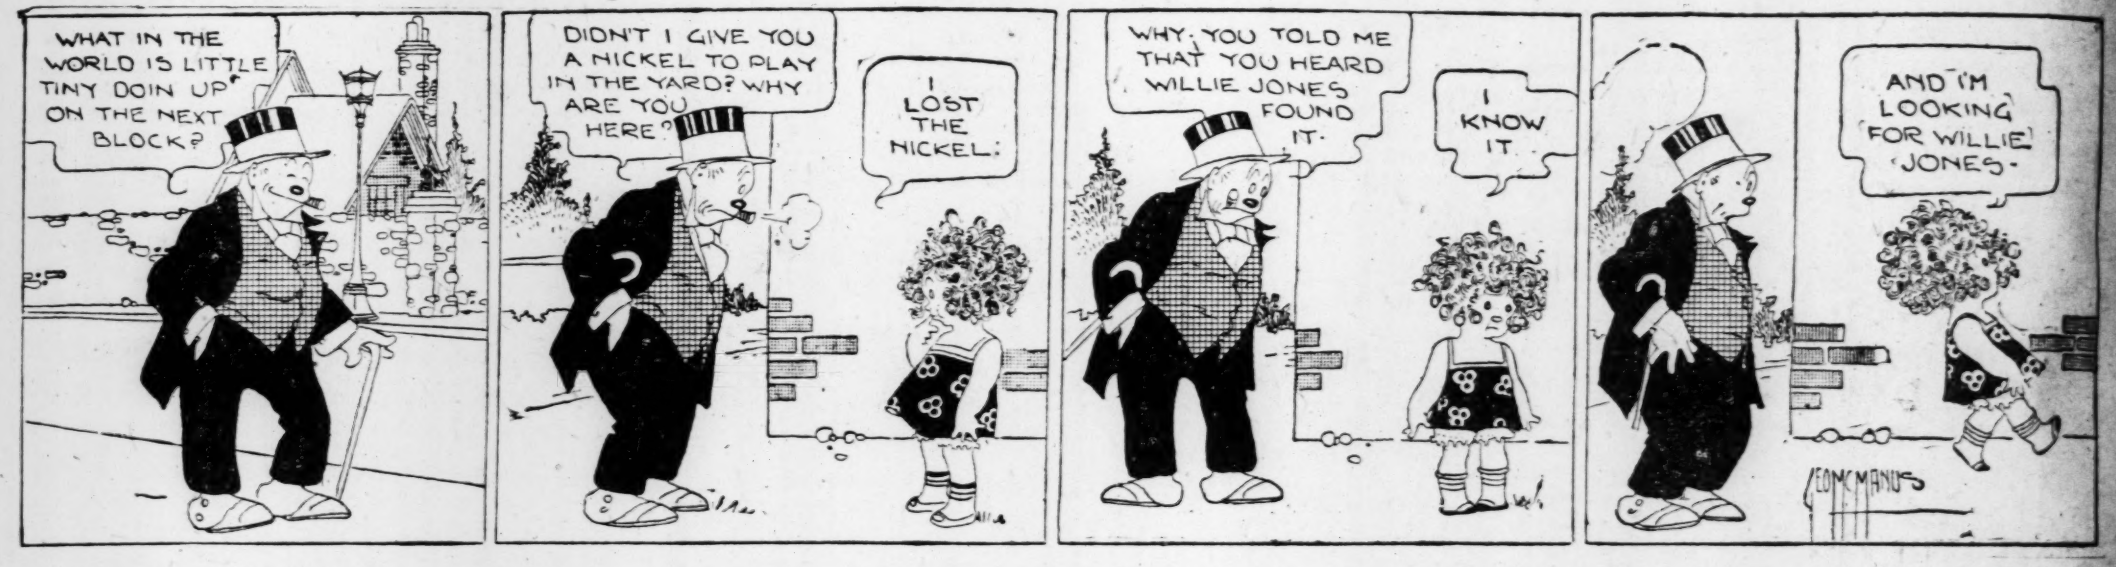

BY HECK!
The Sheriff of Illinois who held a convention last week want more guns, more pay, better autos, longer terms of office and more help. Outside of that they are perfectly contented and can't think of a single thing that would add to their happiness, unless it would be bigger and brighter stars.

Dark Skies Keep Attendance at Double-Header Down to 20,000—Cuyler Also Makes Four-Bagger.

The Barring Order.
PITTSBURG. Cardinals' manager, Branch Rickey, today issued a barring order against the Cardinals' pitcher, Henry Lee Meadows, who was selected for his duties this afternoon in the opening game of the second successive double-header here between the Cardinals and the Cincinnati Reds.

BY J. ROY STOCKTON
Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.
SPORTSMAN'S PARK, AUG. 21.—William Sherdel, the little left-handed member of the Cardinals' pitching staff, and Henry Lee Meadows, the pitcher who wears spectacles, were selected for hurling duty this afternoon in the opening game of the second successive double-header here between the Cardinals and the Cincinnati Reds.

Estimates of the crowd today indicated a general expectation that the paid attendance would be between 20,000 and 25,000. The threatening weather caused the umpires to start the game five minutes early.

FIRST INNING.
PITTSBURG—Waner flied to Hafey. Rhyme flied to Douthitt. Cuyler popped a single to center. Traynor flied to Douthitt. NO RUNS.

CARDS—Douthitt doubled to left. Southworth hit to Meadows and Douthitt was run down. Meadows to Traynor to Rawlings. Southworth was doubled off first. Rawlings to Granham. Hornsby grounded to Rawlings. NO RUNS.

SECOND INNING.
PITTSBURG—Barnhart popped to O'Farrell near the pitcher's box. Granham popped to Sherdel. Rawlings popped to Hornsby. NO RUNS.

CARDS—Bottomley flied to Cuyler. Bell singled to center. Hafey forced Bell. Rhyme to Rawlings. O'Farrell singled to right, sending Hafey to third. The score was safe when Rhyme fumbled his grounder. Hafey scoring and O'Farrell stopping at second. Rawlings threw out Sherdel. ONE RUN.

THIRD INNING.
PITTSBURG—Smith was hit by a pitched ball. Meadows bunted, but forced Smith. Sherdel to Thewissen. Southworth ranged far into center and pulled down Waner's drive. Bell made a fine stop of Rhyme's smash down the third base line and his long throw retired the runner by a step. NO RUNS.

CARDS—Douthitt singled to left. Southworth singled to right, sending Douthitt to third. Hornsby sent Cuyler to the fence for his long sacrifice fly. Douthitt scoring and Southworth reaching second. Bottomley gave Cuyler another long run, sending him to the right center wall for his sacrifice fly, which put Southworth on third. Bell delivered another smash, but it sailed into the left field bleachers for a home run and as Southworth trotted home and Bell followed him, new hate by the score called from the stands and the crowd enjoyed its greatest cheer of this hectic
